

Episode #15 Racism in the Time of Coronavirus

Wednesday, March 25, 2020

Hey. Paola here. In this episode, I share my experience with COVID-19 racism and conversations with Phil Yu (Angry Asian Man, They Call Us Bruce) and Devin Cabanilla (Filipino American National Historical Society, Seattle chapter) about the disturbing rise of anti-Asian racism and xenophobia.

How are you doing right now? Call 213-293-6024 and share your story.

Leave a message with your name, where you're calling from and answers to some of these questions:

How do you feel right now?

What's your stay-at-home situation like?

If you have to go out, why and what do you do?

Are you on the frontlines of this COVID-19 fight?

What's happening in your community?

Have you experienced racism?

What are you doing to fight back?

What's getting you through this?

Do you have any words of advice for other people?

We're all in this together. Please call so we can share your story with our community on our next episode. (ANYONE CAN CALL SO PLEASE DO!!)

Thank you. Stay safe and healthy.
